

CCS 2009-10

Accomplishment Description:

CAHM Program, Curriculum, and Faculty/Student Success

Numerous volunteer efforts continue to highlight this year's Program community involvement including: The Whiteaker Thanksgiving Dinner, the Mt. Pisgah Mushroom and Wildflower Festivals, Project Homeless Connect, Chefs' Night Out, and the Native American Pow-Wow. The Oregon Truffle Festival featured Culinary and Hospitality students for their opening night dinner featuring a Guest Chef from France. The Mycological Society collaborated with the CAHM Program to execute their annual Fungal Feast with Guest Chef Jack Czarnecki held this year at the Center for Meeting and Learning (Center). The CAHM Program actively participated in supporting Lane's Sustainability Day and Earth Day celebrations in coordination with the Learning Garden, as well as the Local Food Connection held at the Center. The CAHM Program Open House was well-attended by almost 100 guests, many from the High School Articulation Program. Students showcased their talents with cooking demonstrations, hospitality tours of the facilities, and event décor.
