

INTL 2011-12

Paul Simon Award for Excellence in Internationalization

Summary:

In all of the college's work toward expanding international programs, we will keep an eye towards national recognition. The Paul Simon award is currently the best one for internationalization.

Description

During summer 2011 International Programs will review the guidelines for the award and consider them as we implement the internationalization plan. Application for the award will happen in 2012 or 2013 academic year.

Questions and Answers

How is the initiative linked to the Unit Plans most recently submitted?

1. How does it continue the achievement of those goals?
2. If this is a continuation of an initiative started last year, make sure that relationship is clear.

How is this initiative linked to the efficiencies and productivities plans you had last year?

2. If this is a continuation of an efficiency or productivity plan started last year, make sure that relationship is clear.

This initiative provides cohesion to internationalization at Lane and national recognition and standards for our work.

Describe the resources needed:

No resources are needed at this time.

What specific measurable program outcomes do you expect to achieve with this initiative? The outcomes should be specific enough to be measurable. Also, outline the method that will be used to determine the results.

If Lane were to win the award the benefits would be easier recruitment in countries that are very aware of ranking and awards such as China. In addition, it will assist us in grant competition.
