

READING TOGETHER PRESENTS
READER'S THEATRE
A WORKSHOP

Reader's Theatre is an ideal tool for giving voice to a diversity of backgrounds, experiences, and cultures. Participants may draw from their own experiences, or from others; in fact, Reader's Theater offers an excellent opportunity for an oral family history project. With the help of this year's Reading Together books, workshop leaders will guide us in the initial steps of creating a Reader's Theatre script. We will also view an oral history video produced by Rites of Passage students, and learn about the process of engaging in an oral history project. This is the first in a series of Reader's Theatre and Oral History workshops.

TUE NOV 16 11:30-1
CML (BUILDING 19) RM102

Contact: Ellen Cantor, cantore@lanecc.edu, 463-3660

If you need disability accommodations in order to attend or participate in this event, please contact Disability Services (541) 463-5150 (voice) or 463-3079 (TTY) at least one week in advance.