

READING TOGETHER PRESENTS

LISA ARKIN AND DAVID MONK of the OREGON TOXICS ALLIANCE

Lane Community College
Wednesday May 17, 1-3 pm
CML Building 19 Rm 226

The Oregon Toxics Alliance (OTA), headquartered in Eugene, has been pivotal in getting the Toxics Right-to-Know law passed and implemented in Eugene. In accordance with the 2005-06 Reading Together theme: Circling Home: Stories and Sustainable Communities, Executive Director Lisa Arkin and Board President David Monk will discuss the mission, goals, and current OTA campaigns that have legislative components to them. They will talk generally about toxics issues, including a discussion of the alternatives embodied in the Precautionary Principle. The audience will learn specifically what OTA is doing, and how people can get involved.

People are welcome to come late or leave early as schedule permits.

If you need disability accommodations in order to attend or participate in this event, please contact Disability Services (541) 463-5150 (voice) or 463-3079 (TTY) at least one week in advance.
