

Lane Community College: First Look

The following report highlights those items where Lane falls notably above or below the mean of the community college comparison group. The report provides the data by enrollment status (part- and full-time). The items listed are significant at $p < .001$ with an effect size greater than or equal to .2. The effect size represents the magnitude of the discrepancy between your college and the comparison group in the student or institutional behavior represented by the item. Using both probability and effect size measures increases the likelihood that the quality of the student experience represented by the item(s) is appreciably different from other colleges of similar size; and the results, therefore, may be of practical as well as statistical significance.
